

Canadian encounters / Rencontres canadiennes

Institute of English Studies, Institut d'études romanes and Canadian Studies cordially invite you to the lecture by

Dr. Margaret P. Bonikowska (Toronto)

Canada: What makes it tick?

The lecture will focus on the Canadian identity model and the core values that shape the Canadian cultural ethos. Dr. Bonikowska invites you to a multimedia encounter with contemporary Canada, showing its particularities and special character.

Wednesday, May 10, 11:30-13:00, Faculty of Modern Languages, UW, 55 Dobra St., room 2.116

We also invite you to participate in a workshop, which will be led by Dr. Margaret P. Bonikowska,

Kanadyjska mozaika na co dzień (spotkanie w j. polskim)

This will be an opportunity to discuss multiculturalism in everyday Canadian life and a media project we can do together.

Wednesday, May 10, 15:15-16:45, Faculty of Modern Languages, UW, 55 Dobra St., room 1.018

Registration for the workshop: m.obszynski2@uw.edu.pl

Number of places limited.
